

P.D.E.A'S ANNASHEB MAGAR COLLEGE HADAPSAR PUNE 28
REPORT OF NATIONAL E-CONFERENCE OF ENGLISH ON PARADIGM SHIFT IN TEACHING ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

ON 14 & 15 SEPTEMBER, 2021

The English department organized a Two Day's National E-conference on 14 & 15 September, in association with AINET, India. Dr. W. S. Khandewale, the H.O.D of English Dept. and the organizer of the conference, introduced the guests and compered the program. Dr. Pandit Shelke, the principal welcomed the guests. Nearly 110 faculty of English from all over India attended the E-conference. Dr. Vivek Joshi is a Professor at Post graduate Department of English in Gadchiroli and was the keynote speaker on 14 September. He emphasized that the teachers of English must become better educated in their curriculum. Dr. Dixit, CELE, Ambedkar University, Delhi was the resource person for the second day and last day of the conference. The takeaway of this event was new normal will have to begin in the post pandemic era.

Dr. Dixit reiterated that paradigm shift means focusing on changes in teaching learning research and orientation. Along with the context, the students should understand the purpose of learning, emphasis on meaningful designs for audio-lingual materials and Pedagogy.

