□ Preamble:

Environmental policy has gradually evolved since the late 1960s. Whereas the earlier efforts addressed distinct issues such as pollution of air and water in the national contest and among international neighbors, more recent concerns such as the greenhouse effect, the destruction of the ozone layer, and the loss of biodiversity transcend national boundaries and require a broad international response. New principles and methods of environmental protection here slowly emerged, emphasizing, inter alia, the need for prevention of damage and the cost-effectiveness of environmental programs. On the international level, the key challenge today lies in the ongoing search for a workable and effective consensus on a meaning of sustainable development which reflects the realities both in the industrialized and in developing states.

□ Guiding principles:

Over the years, a variety of principles have been developed to help policy makers. Examples of such guiding principles, some of which have acquired a legal basis in some countries, are the “polluter pays” principle, which makes polluters liable for the costs of environmental damage, and the precautionary principle, which states that an activity is not allowed when there is a chance that the consequences are irreversible.

Such straightforward guiding principles do not work in all situations. For example, some environmental challenges, such as global warming, illuminate the need to view Earth as an ecosystem consisting of various subsystems, which, once disrupted, can lead to rapid changes that are beyond human control. Getting polluters to pay or the sudden adoption of the precautionary principle by all countries would not necessarily roll back the damage already imparted to the biosphere, though it would reduce future damage.

Objectives of the policy:

- Conservation of Critical Environmental Resources To protect and conserve critical ecological systems and resources, and invaluable natural and man-made heritage, which are essential for life-support, livelihoods, economic growth, and a broad conception of human well-being.
- Modern-day environmental policy aims to protect environmental quality, protect natural resources, and ensure that resources are shared fairly.
- To protect and conserve critical ecological systems and resources
- To ensure efficient use of environmental resources in the sense of reduction in their use per unit of economic output, to minimize adverse environmental impacts.

Implementing guidelines:

- Policy implementation refers to the actions to be initiated 'after a bill
- Be-comes a law.
- Implementation is the toughest task in the entire policy cycle
- consisting of: (i) Problem identification, (ii) agenda setting, (iii) policy formulation, (iv) policy legitimization, (v) implementation and (vi) Evaluation
- It consists of a set of actions to carry a policy into effect by applying them to the target population so as to achieve its goal.
- Policy implementation is, therefore, a function of: (i) the agencies and officials Involved, (ii) the procedures they follow, (iii) the techniques or tools they Employ and (iv) the political support and opposition that they encounter.

□ Preamble:

Environment-friendliness and energy harvesting are of prime interest today which are the key factors in achieving Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) for any organization. Keeping these factors in specifying energy policy of Lakireddy Bali Reddy College of Engineering (Autonomous), we presume that it is in accordance with the prescriptions of National Institution for Transforming India (NITI) Aayog with reference to support for renewable energy resources.

Another factor of significance is rapidly and dynamically increasing energy demand. Since conventional sources cannot meet this requirement easily, LBRCE has incorporated establishment of alternate energy sources in the form of Solar PV generation. LBRCE energy policy also has taken an efficient energy management and conservation through good established procedures specified in its policy.

□ Introduction:

New National Education Policy is implemented in India from 2021 to inculcate education among common Indian and improve their intelligence.

To achieve such task, various type of management is essential, especially energy management. Because, at office timing every one facing electricity problem. Educational institutes require large amount of energy. So, institute must have energy management about production of electricity and saving electricity. Most of the Energy requirement in India is depends on domestic fossil fuel. Government motivates educational institute for the use of renewable energy resources.

In this energy audit study, auditor team measured use of electricity in classroom, laboratories, practical purpose instruments, Fans, air conditioners, computers, printers, photo copy machines, etc. first we calculate exact consumption of bulb, fans, AC, computer, printers, instruments, etc in the total requirement of electricity. Our team calculated institutional investment on the electricity and total generation electricity from the solar electricity generation.

Also, we have focused on saving of electricity from solar generation and solar energy requirement.

Energy audit study is completed by collecting exact data mentioned above things using above survey.

□ Objectives:

- To increase the locally produced energy in India
- To reduce energy poverty with more focus on developing alternative sources of energy, particularly nuclear, solar and wind energy.
- Economic efficiency, basic needs and equity, energy independence and national security, mobilization of financial resources, conservation and oil substitution, and other socio-political objectives and constraints

PART ONE

PREAMBLE :

It is important to comprehend fundamental ideas such as the distinction between sex and gender, gender roles, stereotypes, the gendered division of labor, gender discrimination, and gender-based violence, as well as notions such as masculinity, patriarchy, and gender equality. These ideas are crucial to comprehend because, according to the Human Development Report (2000), "the gender question is not just about women and men and how they interact. Understanding these ideas would help people become more aware of how to stop gender biases from existing in society and empower girls and women to achieve their goals." It is important for everyone to comprehend how gender roles result in a gendered division of labor and how participants can recognize gender discrimination based on stereotypes of male and female traits. We also need to comprehend the social pressures, advantages, and disadvantages associated with men and women adhering to traditional gender norms.

The institute is dedicated to establishing and upholding a community where students, teachers, and non-teaching staff can coexist without encountering any types of gender-based violence, harassment, exploitation, intimidation, or discrimination. The institute is cognizant of the constitutional rights to freedom of speech and association, and it firmly believes in gender equality and condemns all forms of violence and discrimination against women.

The institute aims to discourage gender stereotypes and instill a zero tolerance stance towards all forms of prejudice. To do this, it is necessary to use the knowledge, viewpoints, actions, and sensitivities of every member of the faculty, staff, and students in order to create and maintain a gender-just environment in learning, teaching, research, administration, and management at all times. The policy's goals must be carried out, and it is the duty of all staff and students to do their part to make that happen.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES:

In every country and community, gender equality is acknowledged as one of the most important Sustainable Development Goals. The Indian Constitution supports fairness, gender equality, and other basic human rights. The Indian Constitution's Articles 14, 15, 19(1)(g), and 21 express gender sensitivity and equal opportunity. According to IPC acts, anyone who violates one of these is subject to

- Obstacles: faced if any and strategies adopted to overcome them:
The main hurdle in implementing this practice is making students internalize the fact that plastic is hazardous. They are so accustomed to the use of plastic that they throw plastic wraps here and there.
- Impact of the practice: After the implementation of this practice the use of single use plastic is substantively reduced. The plastic wastes are segregated and properly disposed. The students also leave the institute with the understanding that they should Reduce Reuse and Recycle plastic.

1. Restricted entry of automobiles: Vehicles should be parked at parking area to reduce noise and air pollution. Honking of horns should be prohibited in the college premises and speed limit should be restricted to 10 km/h.
2. Bicycles/Battery Powered vehicles: As the college is located in the rural area, most of the students prefer bicycles to commute. College has set up bicycle stands as a part of discipline and security. Staff and students are to be encouraged to use e-vehicles.

Institutional Water Management Policy

Under the guidance of our respected Principal Dr .P.N. Shelke the environment science department has assigned a task of water management keeping in mind the main environmental aspect water on earth.

It also helps to inculcate these values among the students in the campus.

This has resulted in development of a model of sustainability with ecological balance in 5.50 acre area of our campus.

We plan to achieve this by implementing principles of sustainability on three fronts i.e.- water, energy and solid waste management.

This has led to an example of development along with ecological preservation.

We have implemented various sustainable technologies such as rain water harvesting, solar power generation, organic waste generation, led lighting etc.

Rain water harvesting :

1. Our campus contain 6 bore wells those are thoroughly studied with respect to depth , channeling and the details that help in replenishment of ground water table of the campus and surrounding environment .
2. The study was also done for management of water at time of water scarcity in summer seasons in the campus.
3. Our internal team and various external agencies focused on specific problem areas that are in need of ground water recharge.
4. This approach led to the theme of sustainability and consciousness towards the environment.

The Annasaheb Magar College campus uses the harvested water for gardening purpose in college and Nursery viz Arts, science and commerce Building. Water harvested from roof top surface runoff is very much sufficient in gardening purpose for entire college campus.
